Miss Helen was a pretty girl,
With hair of golden hue;
She used a wand for a job,
And Helen got it, too.
The boss he fell in love with her,
And she became his bride;
A motor car, soon after that,
Jumped on him, and he died.
And Helen got a million plunks—
The third of his estate,
Said she: "It pays to advertise,
No matter what the rate."

DR. E. G. B. MANN

A DECIDEDLY BUSY PERSON DURING THE PAST FOUR YEARS.

Rev. E. G. B. Mann, presiding elder of the Maysville District, M. E. Church, South, filled his last appointment of his term in this district Sunday, and Tuesday will go to Millersburg to attend the session of the Kentucky annual conference there and will be assigned to another district or station.

During the four years' term, closing with Sunday, Dr. Mann has held 240 quarterly meetings and thirty revival meetings, has traveled 26,000 miles, preached 1,400 times and had 1,270 persons converted under his personal ministry.

Besides all this, Dr. Mann has served as editor-in-chief and business manager of the Central Methodist Advocate during the four years, and has represented his conference as delegate to the Ecumenical Methodist Conference held in Toronto, Canada, in October, 1911, and as delegate to the general conference of the church, held in Oklahoma City in May, 1914.

Dr. Mann has dedicated eighty new churches during the four years, and has delivered a number of addresses and lectures at colleges, campmeetings, etc., that are not included in the summary already given.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democrats of Mason county, upon call of Chairman A. G. Sulser, met at the courthouse in this city Saturday afternoon to select delegates to the state platform convention, which meets in Louisville, Tuesday. The temporary organization—A. G. Sulser, chairman, and M. J. McCarthy, secretary, was made permanent, and upon motion, all known Democrats were made delegates and a resolution adopted that the delegates vote as a unit on all questions. It was a harmonious gathering of the Demmes.

Dr. Kahn will be in his office in the O'Keefe Building today and Tuesday.

CLUB OFFER

OPENS TODAY IN GREAT CONTEST WHICH CLOSING ON SEPTEMBER 11TH.

With but two more weeks in which to secure votes that will enable them to win the twenty prizes costing $2,400.00, the candidates in the Daily Bulletin-Public Ledger contest have started to work today with a determination of putting forth every hour possible to the pleasant pastime of securing votes.

Knowing the tremendous interest which this contest has aroused everywhere and desiring to help each candidate to make the best showing this week, the contest manager makes the astounding offer of 50,000 extra votes for each and every club of subscriptions either new or old amounting to $15.

This club offer holds good only six days and every candidate will realize that to win she must make good use in the next five days. It is always the votes secured during the final two weeks that determine the prize winners, therefore the logical thing for each candidate to do is to lay aside all other matters and make a whirlwind campaign during the next five days.

Victory and automobiles will be the reward for the two candidates that do the most effective work this week. It makes no difference what you have done in the past, for no one has secured a lead that can not easily be overcome.

New and late candidates who have just entered the race are now offered the greatest opportunity of their lives and by a systematic canvass, dozens of subscriptions which mean thousands of votes can easily be secured.

Two weeks more! Just think of it! Only fourteen days until the greatest prize offering ever made to ladies of this section will come to an end. Think of those twenty luxurious prizes, all ready and waiting to be delivered to their winners. You can win any one of them. Select the prize you want to win and make certain of getting it by putting forth your very best effort now. Besides the value of the prize, think of the honor of being first of all, for with this honor you win a prize worth hundreds of dollars.

The time for idly contemplating your prospects has passed and prompt action is the thing to carry you to the winning class. Pay no attention to idle rumors and gossip, for this campaign, as all other campaigns by the Bulletin and Public Ledger, will be conducted absolutely on the square, and the best workers will receive the best prizes.

The standing of each candidate will be published daily this week and by careful perusal of the vote schedule one can easily see that every candidate is on an equal footing and has an equal chance to win either the Saxon Six or the Overland 83.

FRENCH WINS

SEVEN-INNING CONTEST FROM THE SENATORS BY THE SCORE OF SIX TO THREE.

Winnie French, the star pitcher of the Burley Cubs' staff did what his name signifies Sunday when he trimmed the fast Charleston Senators by the score of six to three in an exciting game as ever was played on the local field. French got a bad start the visitors getting three runs in the first round the result of an error and three hits, but after that the big boy with the smile had the West Virginians eating out of his hand, and for the remainder of the contest he let them down with three hits and not a run.

This win is his ninth victory and not a defeat for him since he joined the Maysville team. He will pitch again this afternoon and says he will make it ten straight wins.

In Sunday's game he was assisted in winning by the hard hitting of H. Devore, who patted the old pill twice in three trips to the plate, and Kelly, who got two out of four. DeBerry also annexed two safeties. Henderson was the fielding star of the local bunch, accepting nine difficult chances without a bobble. The box score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Charleston here again today for the last game of the season on this field. Let all the fans and fannettes come out and watch our boys win another from the Beersmen.

The grounds are in good condition and a game for this afternoon is assured by President Russell.

Emmer and Tinnin rapped the old horsehide for three stations. These youngsters are just now hitting their stride and before long they will loom up as the big stars of the game. Great work is expected of them in the post-series.

Henderson and Tipton certainly executed some nifty fielding about the first and second bags Sunday. They are about the smoothest working pair in the league and anything that gets by them is one degree past impossible. Sunday was the anniversary of the birth of Biddy Beers, manager of the Charleston crew, and the Colonels were not the least bit backward in handing him a birthday gift that was not the least bit acceptable. Nor was it appreciated.

REGULARS LOSE AT MANCHESTER

The fast Regular team, of this city, journeyed to Manchester Sunday and was defeated by the team of that place by the score of five to nothing. Doc Covert, the Ellsberry star, pitched for the Manchester boys and kept the hits of the Regulars scattered. McDonald, of the Regulars, lost only because of errors. Manager Dinger hopes to have the Augusta team here Sunday and if he can make arrangements he says he will give the fans the fastest article of ball ever shown by amateur teams.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. McCarahan and daughter, Lelah, of Lewiston, Ill., return home today after a several weeks' visit to relatives and friends in this city and Lewis county.

REPUBLICANS CONSTRUCT—DEMOCRATS DESTROY.

Washington, August 28.—(Special Correspondence)—The lumber trade quite naturally reflects conditions throughout the country. Lumber is peculiarly a constructive material. There is steady and growing demand for it when the country is going ahead and comparatively little demand when enterprise is at a standstill. When times are dull few new houses are built in the cities, erection of business blocks is suspended, farmers put up no new buildings, repairs to old buildings in both city and country are postponed. The steel industry and gross earnings of railroads are frequently accepted as barometers of industrial conditions but they are not so accurate as the lumber trade, as indicators of business conditions.

Among all the manufacturing industries of the United States, lumbering is the leader in number of employees engaged. Over a billion dollars is invested in saw mills and probably twenty billions more in standing timber. The industry, under normal conditions, gives employment to about 700,000 men whose wages compare favorably with those received in other occupations. Eighty per cent of the gross price of lumber goes to labor, farm products and transportation. Lumbermen are the largest buyers of farm products and they furnish the railroads with the largest number of cars of freight.

Lumbering, therefore, not only reflects conditions in other industries, but very greatly affects those industries. Lumbering is the chief industry in more than a dozen states and a large industry in half the states of the Union. There are 48,000 saw mills, or an average of 1,000 to each state.

On the Northern shores of the Great Lakes and in British Columbia lumber producers have several advantages over American mills. Wages are less in all Canadian lumbering districts. The government owns the timber land and sells the timber to the mills as needed, thus relieving the mill owner of the great expense of taxes and insurance and loss by fire. In the Great Lakes region the Canadian operator has a large advantage because he transports his product chiefly by water and gets the cheaper water rate. The British Columbia lumberman has an advantage in being permitted to ship in Canada or British bottoms, while the American lumber going from one American port to another must be shipped in an American boat, built by American labor and manned by American seamen, living under American conditions and receiving American wages.

Formerly these advantages were partly offset by a protective tariff, but a Democratic Congress repealed the tariff and threw our markets open to the Canadian producer. General depression in all industry curtailed the demand and then the Canadian lumberman was invited to supply a large part of the demand that remained. The Canadian government, however, was not so careless of the interests of its people. It maintained a protective duty on the higher grades of lumber which the American mills could produce in competition with Canadian mills and also prohibited the export of logs to be manufactured in this country.

Lumbering today is a thriving industry in Canada while American mills are running on short time and reduced wages or are closed down entirely. Many mills, in an effort to keep their men employed, cut timber in excess of any prospective demand and filled it in their yards to deteriorate with age while they pay taxes and insurance upon it.

American tariff tinkers practically paralyzed the chief industry of the country while Canada diligently and intelligently looked after the welfare of her people. But, since Democratic leaders insist upon, we must "Stand by the President," and not question the wisdom of legislation which he demanded.

REPARATION IS PROMISED WITH FUTURE SECURE.

Washington, August 27.—Germany's intention to offer full satisfaction to the United States for the sinking of the liner Arabic with a loss of two American lives, was communicated formally to the State Department today by Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador on instructions from the Berlin foreign office. The ambassador read to Secretary Lansing a memorandum outlining the position of his government. It promised if it was found that the Arabic was attacked without warning the imperial government would promptly disavow the act, but would give the United States "full satisfaction." This, it is well known, would have to include reparation that no such tragedies would be repeated.

No further developments in the situation are expected now until the submarine commander who sunk the Arabic has reported to Berlin. Meantime President Wilson and Secretary Lansing, though visibly encouraged and relieved by Count Von Bernstorff's assurances and reports from Ambassador Gerard on his conferences with Foreign Minister Von Jagow, are in a waiting attitude. Before the American government can speak there must be forthcoming the German disavowal and explanation of what all evidence received seem to prove an "unfriendly act."

It became known tonight that the State Department has been informed that Germany is ready to renew discussion of the Lusitania incident and to offer reparation for the American lives lost when that ship was sent to the bottom without warning by a German submarine. There has been no response to the last American note on this subject and it is known that the United States would not listen to reparation proposals with the situation created by the sinking of Arabic still pending. With the attack on the Arabic disavowed, however, and guarantees given against repetition, the German communication explaining the Lusitania was torpedoed as a reprisal against Great Britain under a misapprehension that she was armed and that the killing of Americans was regretted and not intended and offering reparation, probably would pave the way for amicably closing up the incident.

About the only shadow over the optimism in official circles today was cast by the "if" in the promise conveyed by Ambassador Von Bernstorff. Some officials thought a disposition by Germany to question the evidence that the Arabic, a peaceful vessel, unarmed and inoffensive, was attacked without warning might lead to interminable and unsatisfactory negotiations. It was even suggested that there was a possibility of the submarine, which fired the torpedo might not later have fallen a victim to the British warships and never would be able to report.

In German quarters, however, confidence was felt that the submarine's report would reach Berlin soon.

German officials have made it plain that their government as soon as it has relieved the strain upon its relations with the United States by limiting submarine activities will ask the American government to demand that Great Britain and her allies cease interfering with legitimate neutral commerce, and thus permit the importation of foodstuffs for the German civil population.

EXPECT GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS TO MAKE STAND.

London, August 27.—The Germans in full possession of the entire Brest-Litovsk line, have resumed the offensive in the Baltic provinces and are pressing the Russians both in the districts southeast of Mitau and to the east of Kovno in an effort to reach the main line of railway, which passes through Vilna and Dvinsk to Petrograd. This may, in time, prove the most important of the German operations, although at present they are using more troops in the pursuit of the Russians who are retiring from Brest-Litovsk and the line on either side of the fortress.

It is expected, however, that with the fall of Brest-Litovsk, which has been followed by that of Olita south of Kovno, the armies of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg will be reinforced and make another attempt to cut off the retreat of the Russians. It is believed here, however, that it now is too late to accomplish this purpose.

The Russians apparently had vacated both Brest-Litovsk and Olita before the Germans arrived, as the latter make no claim to the capture of guns and booty. The Austrian official report states that Arch-Duke Joseph Ferdinand found the town of Kamien-Litovsk in flames when he arrived. There are indications, therefore, that the Russians are still carrying to the rear everything movable that might prove of use to the invaders and burning what they are unable to take with them.

The intimation that the Russians have fortified another front pending an opportunity for a renewed offensive has received some confirmation. It is stated that the new line is being strengthened by all the latest methods known to military engineers. The Russians army still are intact with virtually all their guns and prospects of a more plentiful supply of ammunition. For this reason military writers here are of the opinion that Grand Duke Nicholas now should be able to make a stand as the Austro-German losses have been very heavy.

The capture of several German trenches in the Vosges was reported by Paris this evening, but what it is considered more significant is the continued activity of the air squadron which has been bombarding German positions in France as well as munition factories across the German border.

THREE MEMBERS OF NIGHT RIDING BAND SENT TO PRISON.

Hartford, Ky., August 27.—Three men who plead guilty in Ohio county Circuit Court to being members of a band of night riders so called "possum hunters" who for some months spread terror throughout this section, are serving sentences in the state prison. One other yesterday was acquitted by a jury and sixty-six defendants are awaiting trial. Ephraim Heisinger, a coal miner, admits he piled the lash when Reuben Howard, a merchant and his wife at Horton, were whipped the night of June 12. He sought to secure a three-year sentence as Jerry Clark and Ernest Webster, who participated in the whipping had done earlier in the week. Commonwealth Attorney Ringo, however, denied a compromise. Reisinger, Clark and Webster were taken to prison after Reisinger accepted the longer term.

Court adjourned today until Tuesday when the cases of Jerry Fulkerson and ten others will be called. It is alleged they participated in an attack on a Rockport negro settlement last April when one negro was killed. The grand jury is still in session.

"Relief for the railroads" has won the day and the interstate commerce commission has granted some of them an increase in rates. Now come along with a little "relief for the editors," and we'll admit that you have some gizzard after all.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES TO BE EMPLOYED AT TIME OF VACCINATING HOGS.

When shots or pigs are heavily infested with worms, vaccination may result in considerable loss. Hogs that are excessively fat are not as good risks for vaccination as animals in medium condition. Farmers must provide proper care of hogs before and after treatment to reduce the risk to a minimum. Many of the undesirable results following vaccination are due to the condition of the hogs, or to the surroundings under which they are kept. These factors are in a majority of instances under the control of the owner.

The following points in hog management should be carefully considered:

1. Ascertain beyond a doubt whether or not cholera is present in the herd.
2. Animals stand the excitement and shock of vaccination better if the intestinal tract is empty; if free from parasites; if in medium flesh; if kept cool during the operation and confined in a clean, disinfected stall, bedded with straw while awaiting the injection of serum.
3. The point of inoculation must be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. The animals must not be allowed access to dirty, filthy wallows before or after treatment. It is impossible to clean a dirty hog with a small amount of antiseptic so that serum can be injected with any degree of cleanliness. Abscesses are most often the results of the filthiness of the hogs and not to any fault of the operator who employs proper precautions with his syringe and serum.

4. There must be a clean, dust-free enclosure for the hogs at the time of inoculation.

5. Following vaccination hogs must be kept in clean quarters for at least two days. Dirty wallows should be avoided. A good plan is to keep hogs in a well bedded stable. The feed should be laxative in nature. Losses sometimes follow vaccination in the winter months because animals are placed in damp, filthy quarters.

6. Great care is employed in preparing pure, potent serum. There is little risk in injecting good serum into hogs that are properly prepared for the operation and properly care for following it.

In summing up the factors which contribute to irregularities, it has been observed that in a great many herds the owner is negligent in providing the care necessary before and after the treatment, especially those essentials herein mentioned.

FORESTALLING CHILD LABOR.

By FELIX ADLER.

The question is sometimes asked: "Why have a National Child Labor Committee? Why not have state committees and let these co-operate?" One sufficient answer to this is that the appearance of child labor in those states in which there is as yet little or no manufacturing must be forestalled, and a national committee is needed to this end. Anti-child labor laws must pre-empt the ground before a greedy industrialism can stretch forth its hands to grasp the child. The law of periodicity, the law of recurrence, that has hitherto obtained in the matter of child labor must be defeated. England began, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New York followed suit. The same inconceivable outrages on human feelings repeat themselves again and again. Whenever a predominantly agricultural community develops into an industrial stage the horrors exposed by Lord Shaftesbury tend to recur. Mankind does not readily learn by experience. The warning lessons of the past are often writ in water. Thus the industrial states of the north simply stepped into the foul footsteps of early English capitalism, and the south, as soon as it became industrial, hastened to repeat the same doleful story. The great states of the Pacific and the west must thwart that horrible law and make it impossible that the same conditions should there grow up. That is the one main object of a national committee.

THE CHILDREN'S CRY.

I said: "I am poor this year, and the war is hard. I cannot give to the things I love to aid. So this must go, and this, in the great discard."

And the children must suffer, too, I am much afraid.

But I didn't know how they cry in the night And clutch at your skirts and mourn, How they cry with the voice of your heart's delight And the faces your dead have worn.

There are boys that work all night in the crystal dust, There are girls who spin all day at the whirling wheels, And how shall I face my dead with my broken trust

When the "Inasmuch as ye, did it not" reveals?

I couldn't hear their cry in the night, The clutch of their little hands, I must do my best with the widow's mite To loosen the firm bonds.

Have You Electric Light in Your Home?

ELECTRIC LIGHTING COSTS LESS EVERY YEAR. THE WONDERFUL IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN THE LAMPS HAS CAUSED THE CURRENT CONSUMPTION TO BE REDUCED 300 TO 400% IN THE LAST FOUR YEARS, WHILE THEIR EFFICIENCY HAS BEEN INCREASED REMARKABLY; AND THEN THEY GIVE A WHITE QUALITY OF LIGHT THAT MORE NEARLY APPROACHES THE SUNLIGHT THAN ANYTHING YET DEVISED. YOU CANNOT DODGE THESE FACTS. YOU KNOW YOU WILL EVENTUALLY USE ELECTRIC LIGHT. WHY NOT NOW?

"LOOK AT SIGNATURES" WASHINGTON'S REPLY TO GENERAL CARRANZA.

Washington, August 27.—No reply had been sent today to Carranza's inquiry through Consul Silliman as to whether Secretary Lansing and the Latin diplomats acted in their official capacities in signing their peace appeal. Officials reiterated if there was any response it would be in the form of a message to Mr. Silliman directing his attention to the fact that the signers of the petition had attached their official titles.

It became known tonight that the case of H. W. Francis, a newspaper correspondent imprisoned at Vera Cruz for sending out dispatches unfavorable to Carranza, is giving the State Department considerable concern.

Two weeks ago a demand for the prisoner's release was ignored and all efforts to arrange bail for him have failed. Representations were renewed today.

When the Republicans were in power the cry of the Democrats was "pitiless publicity." Now that through an unfortunate division in the Republican party, the present administration has been ushered in, any one who tells the facts regarding industrial conditions is called unpatriotic. We ask in the words of a well known Congressman: "It is patriotic for public men to keep silent and sound no word of warning until the whole country is done to industrial death by academic doctors and efficiency experts, by gowned theorists and scholarly dreamers, by pedantic pundits and learned illusionists?"

Treating in barrooms and clubs has been made illegal in Liverpool, England. Some of the lawmakers must have recently returned from a trip to Cincinnati.

PROGRESS IN COLLEGE EDUCATION.

There were 216,493 students in colleges, universities and technological schools in 1914, according to the annual report of the Commissioner of Education, just issued. This is an increase of 14,262 over 1913. The bureau's list for 1914 includes 567 institutions, a decrease of twenty-nine over the preceding year. States or municipalities control ninety-three of the colleges; private corporations control 474. Men still outnumber women in higher education; there were 139,373 men in 1914 and 77,120 women, as compared with 128,644 men and 73,587 women in 1913. Despite rising standards of administration and graduation, college enrollment has more than tripled since 1890.

Receipts during the year totaled $120,579,257, of which $18,422,856 was for endowment. Benefactions to colleges and universities totaled $26,670,617, something over $2,000,000 more than in the year previous. Six institutions received benefactions in excess of a million dollars apiece and forty-five universities, colleges and technological schools reported gifts amounting to more than $100,000. In the past seven years the largest increase in income has come through state and municipal appropriations, and the smallest from tuition and other fees. State and municipal appropriations grew from $9,649,549 in 1908 to $23,400,540 in 1914, while fees for tuition and other educational services increased from $15,390,847 to $22,504,529.

The dominant note of the year in higher education, according to the report, was concentration, both in internal organization and in relation to state authority. The movement in the direction of authoritative classification gained momentum during the year, chiefly through the activities of several voluntary associations. The junior-college movement has reached the point where several states—notably Wisconsin, Missouri, Virginia and Idaho—have gone on record as definitely recognizing junior colleges in the educational system of the state. The Municipal University of Akron, O., was added to the list of city universities, and the new "Association of Urban Universities," established in the fall of 1914, lends emphasis to this municipality-university development.

Degrees conferred by colleges and universities included 26,533 baccalaureates, 5,248 graduate and 749 honorary. The degree of doctor of philosophy was conferred as the result of on 446 men and seventy-three men. Examination by forty-six institutions

BREACH TO WIDEN.

(Rochester Post-Express.) The break between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan will be even more apparent than it is today when the President announces his program of national defense.

Just thought of it, by gum! We'll have to take a new world census when this dinged war collapses, and there's a chance for you small-bored politicians to hunch up to a batch of jobs.

THE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL.

Reorganization of education under the junior high school plan or something similar is definitely under way, according to Prof. T. H. Briggs, whose review of secondary education has just been issued by the U. S. Bureau of Education.

The junior high school has been defined "as an organization of grades seven and eight or seven and nine to provide means for individual differences, especially by an earlier introduction of prevocational work and of subjects usually taught in the high school." There are now fifty-seven cities in the United States where junior high schools are organized in unmistakable form.

"One advantage claimed for the junior high school," declares Dr. Briggs "is that it groups children so that subjects seldom taught in the grammar grades may be introduced, thereby giving each pupil a more intelligent understanding of the work of the world, of the possibilities in the subject and in the pupil himself."

"The junior high school also makes easier the transition of pupils to the high school. That the change between the elementary pupils to the high school should be so sharp permits no justification. To bridge this gap by earlier introduction to high school subjects and methods of teaching has greatly improved results, it is claimed."

"The junior high school has furthermore greatly decreased elimination of pupils from school. This elimination after the seventh, eighth and ninth grades has been one of the greatest reproaches to our educational system. Any plan that promises to retain children in school beyond these grades is worthy of the most careful consideration."

The statistics given by Dr. Briggs show that a much larger per cent of students enter high school where junior high schools exist than before they were organized.

That the junior high school furnishes an opportunity for various needed reforms in instruction is the final claim of the new movement, according to Dr. Briggs. He points out that in the junior high school a course of study based on the newer principles of psychology, sociology and economics, various provisions for individual differences and especially an improved method of teaching, can now be introduced.

Los Angeles (Cal.) High School; Butte (Mont.) High School; Wisconsin High School, Madison, Wis.; and Horace Mann School, New York City, are cited as successfully organized junior high schools, "Los Angeles having far outstripped all other cities in developing them."

RATIFICATION IS EXPECTED.

Washington, August 27.—Prompt ratification of the proposed American protectorate treaty by the Haitian parliament was forecasted today in dispatches to the State Department from Charge Davis at Port Au Prince. President D'Artiguenave, head of the new government is committed to the convention and is believed to have assurances of support from senators and delegates to secure favorable action within a few days.

It became known today that the plans of the United States for putting Haiti in order contemplate calling up on the War Department if necessary, to furnish officers for the island police from its fine corps of non-commissioned officers who have developed and command the Philippine constabulary.

The pending treaty would provide not only for a complete financial protectorate and the administration of custom houses, but far a native police force officered by Americans.

The retreat of the Hon. George L. Record of New Jersey into the ranks of the Republican party is an unmistakable sign of Progressive futility in that state. Mr. Record has always been a practical politician, although not always a successful one. Progressive prospects looked rosy to him three years ago, but with an aptitude for not wasting his time in politics, he now discovers that the majority of the Republican voters "are unquestionably progressive."—New York Sun.

The headline writer for the Washington Times is an unconscious—or is it conscious—humorist. One the day that the President hastened back to Washington to take direction of the Mexican situation, an edition of the Times was put out with this caption spraddled all over the front page in huge type: "MEXICANS SPREAD TERROR IN TOWNS ALONG BORDER; WILSON IS IN CHARGE AGAIN."

A CHARTER FOR CHILDHOOD.

Ohio Codifies Child Welfare Laws, but No Other State Does.

If any one asks what the laws affecting children are in New York state no person in any position can without considerable research answer the question, according to a statement made by Homer Folks at the Eleventh Annual Conference on Child Labor. The only state in the Union where it could be readily answered is Ohio, since Ohio is the only state that has codified its child welfare laws.

A committee appointed last May at the National Conference of Charities and Corrections, with C. C. Carstens of Boston at its head and Edward N. Clapper of the National Child Labor Committee as one of its most active members, is now at work drafting a children's charter that would show how all laws relating to children should be co-ordinated and that could be adopted as a whole or in part according to the needs of the individual state.

The benefits of the children's charter will not be confined to a clearing up of the principles on which the various organizations and committees which are interested in the needs and rights of childhood should base their work. In fact, the friends of the charter are inclined to believe that its greatest value may lie in the simple fact that it will encourage co-operation. The drafting of the charter, which will be in itself a co-operative effort, will teach workers in the various fields to think of their work as a part of a larger whole. The relation, for instance, between the school attendance officer, the factory inspector, the juvenile court worker and the administrator of mothers' pensions will become a practical help to each of them. For the child such co-operation all along the line should mean that the care that is now available for the child who happens to come under the eye of the official or social worker who is fitted to meet his case will be extended to a larger proportion of those who need it.

A POLITICAL ACCIDENT.

(Connellsville (Pa.) Courier.)

The Democratic administration is a political accident and the country has been the victim of a series of administrative accidents ever since the New Freedom was proclaimed by the new Jefferson in the old Washington. The Democratic party sneaked into power and glory while the Republicans were having a rather strenuous family quarrel. The latter are not without some blame in the matter, but they are preparing to right to situation as soon as possible. In the meantime the Democratic party seems to have done its worst, and if it leaves the country alone the unusual conditions will enable the people to pull through after a fashion.

It is worse than useless, however, for the Democratic organs to try to justify the Democratic polities. In their appeal to the people in the campaign of 1912, the Democrats declared that the Republican high tariff made high living costs, and that revision of the same along Democratic lines would reduce the cost of living, increase the public revenues and stimulate the activity of American industries.

The tariff was revised by the strong-arm process, but in its operation not a single Democratic promise was redeemed. Instead of decreasing the cost of living increased; so far from being enhanced, the public revenues dwindled so that the public treasury now faces a deficit, and, finally, the industrial world was plunged into a period of depression which threw two-thirds of the workmen out of employment, where they would have been today if a European war of gigantic extent and overwhelming influences had not started our mills and mines on the uplift again.

Kidney trouble is dangerous and often fatal. Don't experiment with something new and untried. Use a tested kidney remedy. Begin with Doan's Kidney Pills. Used in kidney troubles 50 years. Recommended here and everywhere.

A Maysville citizen's statement forms convincing proof. It's local testimony—it can be investigated.

Henry Callenstein, blacksmith, Poplar street, Maysville, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are the best of kidney medicines. I have used different kinds and no other has ever equalled this one. When my kidneys were out of order and I had pain in my back, I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. They stopped the pains and my kidneys became strong. The cure has been permanent."

OUR SYMPATHY, FANS FROM CHILLY.

(Portsmouth Times.)

Wonder what the weak-hearted, hard-to-shell-out fans of Paint Street, O., think of Josh Devore and his fledglings by this time. The fans of the old metropolis certainly permitted one grand little ball club to ooze out of its midst when they failed to kick in two-bits now and then at a game. The Colonels have been playing an article of ball that would have brought pure unadulterated joy to the dear little hearts of those deliciously sweet cane-carrying kiddies of picturesque old Paint Street. We are near to tears when we think of how their hearts must swell with sorrow when they take a peep at the Ohio State League standing and find Maysville browsing contentedly in pasture No. 1 of the Carr field. 'Twas ever thus.

And Maysville does not prate about its dyed-in-the-wool fans, its intellectuality and white-trousered roughened, cane manipulators either. No, nothin' doin'. It's just a small burg, with a one-legged car line and a street light here and there, but it's a game burg at that. We'll say so. Ohio State League hats are doffed to Maysville. She was a life-saver.

ARREST YOUTH ON CHARGE OF ROBBERY MAIL.

Teddy Hook, aged 18, was arrested Saturday morning on the charge of robbing mail boxes on the route that leads from this city to Mt. Carmel. Hook has been out on bond on the charge of forgery for about three weeks. He some time ago forged checks against some of the prominent farmers of the Orangeburg and Reelfoot vicinity. If the charges of robbing the U. S. mail are true, the youngster will take a several years' vacation at Fort Leavenworth at the expense of Uncle Sam.

CHARLESTON 5, MAYSVILLE 4.

In an uphill contest Saturday Charleston defeated Maysville by the score of 5 to 4 in a ten-inning contest.

The score stood 3 to 0 in the seventh inning in favor of the locals, but in the eighth the Senators forged ahead by making four tallies. Maysville tied the score in the ninth when Kelly slammed out a three-bagger and scored on a wild throw to nail him at third, the ball hitting him in the back and rolling over to the dog house. Brown, who was hurrying for "Our Boys," was not equal to the occasion, however, and the visitors put over the deciding run in the tenth, the score being 5 to 4. The score follows:

Charleston	0 0 0 0 0 0 4 0 1 5

Profit-Sharing With Retail Buyers

On August 1, 1914 we made the announcement that if we could make and sell at retail 300,000 Ford cars between August 1, 1914 and August 1, 1915 we would share profits with the retail purchasers, to the extent of from $40 to $60 on each car. We have sold over 300,000 Ford cars in the time specified, and profit-sharing checks of $50 each will be distributed as rapidly as possible after August 15, 1915. Retail purchasers who have not yet mailed us their profit-sharing coupons, properly endorsed, should do so without delay.

Our plan to profit-share with retail purchasers of Ford cars during 1914-15 has been most successful. We thoroughly believe in it, but, realizing the uncertainty of conditions generally makes it advisable to defer any announcement of future profit-sharing until a later date.

We are, however, confident of our inability to reduce costs for several months, and therefore can offer no profit-sharing for cars.
